A Family Affair.

Dr. Andrew Hood, of Clark county, was a member of the last Constitutional Convention, as we stated several weeks ago. We now learn that his son, Thomas Hood, formerly a resident of this place, and son-in-law of the late Maj. S. Turner, was also a member of the Convention, but living at that time in another county. Major Turner, you will recall, was the delegate from Madison.

That's Right.

Bardott Blanks is again in jail. He was brought out by Mr. Joel Embry, of Madison, but instead of requiring his benefactor, he ran off with his cook and left nobly to prepare Mr. Embry's meals. That gentleman didn't like that way of doing business, so the first time he got hold of the darky he turned him over to the jailor. Blanks, it will be remembered, shot another negro named Lige Maret.—Stonford Journal.

Taxes Reduced.

The Court of Claims reconvened on Wednesday and fixed the county levy at 34 cents—10 cents for general purposes, 10 cents for Kentucky Central bonds, 14 cents for turnpikes. The Legislature having reduced the State tax from 47 to 42, makes the total County levy and State tax only 77 cents.

The court ordered that should any interest on the R. N. & B. bonds become due before the court reconvenes, the county Judge and County Attorney shall borrow money sufficient to pay said interest.

BOTH SIDES AND THE MIDDLE THEREOF.

A Schweinfurth Backslider Confesses, But Talks About Widow Tatte's Two Children Born in "Heaven."

A ROCKFORD WOMAN WRITES TO A RICHMOND WOMAN ABOUT THE FREE LOVE APOSTLE.

The Minneapolis Tribune of May 15th, says:

A few weeks ago appeared in the Evening Tribune an interview with T. J. Morgan of 1310 Franklin avenue, this city. Morgan had been a follower of the mock and lowly George J. Schweinfurth, who parades himself as God manifest in the flesh.—Christ returned to earth—and calls his farm at Rockford, Illinois, Heaven. Morgan deserted the cause, saying that the doctrine taught by the new sect was doctrinally free love, and that as a result of her conversion his wife had left him, and with his children. His home was destroyed and he was miserable, all he said, on account Schweinfurth's evil influence.

Probably the call has been to a County Convention and is here.

The School-house Tax.

Elsewhere in to-day's CLIMAX appears the act in full empowering the voters of School District No. 28 to bind an indebtedness to erect a school house.

The problem presented is not for organizing the school house, but whether it shall be built by the sale of bonds to run twenty years, or by a tax of 25 cents on the $100. It seems to us that the bonded indebtedness is the better. The interest on $20,000 cannot exceed $1,200 a year; and $1,000 a year to the sinking fund makes a total of $2,200 per year that would have to be raised by taxation. To say nothing of the poll tax, and excluding the property of colored people, the tax required to raise $2,200 per year will be much less than the 25 cents on the $100 for so many years as will be necessary to pay off the $20,000, as would be necessary under the general school law.

One Hundred Dollars in Gold Given Away—$50, $30, $15 and $5.—Also Two Years Subscription to the CLIMAX.

Every subscriber, new or old, who pays one year in advance from the day of payment, will be given a ticket bearing a number, and a duplicate ticket will be put in a sealed box. A blind-fold boy will draw from the box, after it is thoroughly shaken, five tickets in succession, which will represent the prizes in the order above named.

The name of every holder of a number is recorded in a book of consecutive numbers, immediately after the number assigned him.

The earlier you secure your number, the better, especially if you are already behind in your subscription.

The Druggists.

A considerable number of members attended the annual meeting of the State Pharmaceutical Association, held in this place last week. Hon. Curtis F. Burnam delivered the address of welcome at the court-house, where the meeting was held.

The usual business of the meeting was transacted, and various subjects were presented by papers and commented upon.

The banquet at the Lyndon, given by the home druggists, was attended by about sixty home persons, besides the thirty or forty visitors.

The Somerset Trades Review stealthily appended the monogram from somebody else who stole it from some other somebody else, &c., &c., to-wit:

A man who writes for a newspaper is of few days and full of grie. He riseth in the morning and knoweth not what the day will bring forth. If he telleth all the news he remitteth the risk of getting and carrieth on him, and if he telleth not the news the people say that he is n. g. and there is no enjoyment for him. The crafty man cajoleth him into giving him a 5-cent puff for a 5-cent cigar, and fool mothers frown on him if he faileth to flatter their freckle-faced broods. And the blacks are the most oblique, the bastards the most enduring, and the bayes have most intelligence and do the most reasoning. These facts probably hold good the world over and are a guide to purchasers, —Exchange.

The largest sale of horses ever held by one establishment in the history of the world was the Middle Park Thoroughbred sale which took place in England in 1872. Three hundred and thirteen animals were disposed of for $512,575, an average of $1,757. The pack consisted of 12 stallions, 197 brood mares and 129 foals.—Western Sportsman.

Texas parties bought last week of Fisher, Handley, Hawkins and Jewell Patterson, of Wilmore, and S. T. Riley, of Troy, one stallion, seventeen mares and foals, for $5,000. The stallion Black Time, four years old, by Hambletonian Maubriou, (540), 1st dam Bess, by Maubriou, (105), 1st dam Mrs. E. F. Patterson, brought $2,000.—Versailles Sun.

"Now, I have given some of the reasons why I denied him and have acknowledged Him. No living being has given me a word of persua. in the matter. God alone has turned me. I turn to Rev. Geo. J. Schweinfurth. I want to be an instrument of heaven. I have avenged him of breaking up my family. There is no trouble with that part of my family that is following him; the trouble is with that part of it that is fighting him. Therefore, I have accused him of being a free lover, when he is as far from it as heaven is from hell.

"You ask me, then, how is that those two children were born to Mrs. Tatte? Jesus Christ of Nazareth often answered questions by asking questions. I will do the same. Can you tell me how the Virgin Mary conceived her first-born? Could such a thing ever happen again? Why not? What has been may again. I shall remain in this city as far as I know, and if any man wishes to ask of the hope that is in me, he is welcome."

ROCKFORD, Illinois, May 12, 1890.

Dear MADAM.—Your letter of inquiry is willingly answered.

George J. Schweinfurth is a short man of slight build, cunning expression, amiable beard, reddish brown hair, watery blue eyes, but does not look in the least bit Christ-like. This everybody says, except the "angels." He is also guilty of wearing store clothes without having the creases pressed out of the legs of his pants.

Mrs. Beekman founded the sect of Beckmanns, and Schweinfurth became a disciple. The two traveled about together, and when the woman died, she couldn't be resurrected, although kept out of the ground a week or so, and her mantle fell on the man.

The stronghold of the Beckmannites was at Byron, fifteen miles from Rockford, and the latter fitted up the mansion—elegantly, wherein to entertain his "angels"—elegantly, because he is bald.

Schweinfurth has decamped the farm back to Weldon, for the lawyers say, so long as he does not accept anything, the law cannot interfere with him.

A grand-daughter of Weldon died, and Schweinfurth was brought to raise her from the dead, but he instead preached a funeral, saying it was not God's will for him to perform a miracle in this case.

The sermon was printed thereby exhibiting downright credulity on the followers part. How anybody can be so imposed upon, I cannot understand, save it that none are so blind as those who refuse to see.

A prophet is truly without honor in his own country, for Rockford does not honor Schweinfurth. In the turn, calls us a "wicked little town"—26,000 people—and proclaims our downfall after the fashion of Sodom, and that is the near future.

The Nicholasville Journal describes the accident at Marble creek as follows:

The Iron bridge over Marble Creek, on the R. N. I. & B. railroad, 216 feet high and half completed, which last week was one of the finest and most attractive pieces of bridge work in the State, is to-day a sorry wreck; result of carelessness and want of amusement for the passengers.

Several "angels" went one night to the church and attempted to speak, but a good Scotch Deacon unmercifully "grelled" the entire party into the street.

The woman was also dismissed from the church. Chicago furnishes a good many angels, and therefore has a good many fragmentary families. Truly, &c.

Cupid So Quick.

On last Thursday, Mr. William Stewart, a prominent and substantial farmer of Rockcastle county, and whose home is at the new and growing town of Wilder, on the K. C., came down to Richmond on business. He was a widower of a few short months, his wife having died. His mother, Mrs. Mary Rice, an attractive grass widow of a few days, having gotten a divorce.

The loss is estimated at $10,000, and will very likely fall upon the bridge contractor J. B. Walker, who represents the Shaffer Bridge Company, of Pittsburgh, Penn.
